

OK! BEAUTY

Faith's Tip:

"It's important to dress up every so often and do something for yourself. For me, it's about wearing my hair down (instead of my regular ponytail) since it makes me feel sexy."

"My beauty routine takes the least amount of time of anything I do," says Faith, here at her fragrance photo shoot.

THE COUNTRY SUPERSTAR REVEALS THE INSPIRATION BEHIND HER SEXY NEW SCENT

Faith Hill has plenty in common with her husband of 13 years, Tim McGraw: They're both 42-year-old, Southern-born, Grammy-winning country music megastars. And they share three beautiful daughters (Gracie, 12, Maggie, 11, and Audrey, 7).

But Tim could boast of one thing Faith didn't have on her résumé — an eponymous scent (his cologne is titled McGraw by Tim McGraw). Until now, that is: On Oct. 1, the "Breathe" songstress introduced her own Coty fragrance — Faith Hill Parfums.

Also, Faith's been busy juggling motherhood with settling into a new home in the Nashville area and recording her ninth album, due out next year.

How does she keep sane? "It's important to spoil yourself," she tells OK!. "Buy a new pair of shoes, or a lipstick, and don't forget to dress up every so often!" We caught up with the songstress to talk about the inspiration for her scent — and the products she can't live without.

Would you say your perfume is an extension of your personal style?

It reflects everything I love, since it incorporates my favorite scents — southern magnolias and jasmine — which are reminiscent of my childhood in Mississippi and Tennessee. It also has a hint of cashmere skin musk and vetiver, which adds sensuality.

What was your most important consideration when developing the fragrance?

I wanted a floral scent that wasn't overpowering, something I can wear all the time — when I'm in my sweats, but also when I'm dressed up for an event.

Did you consult with Tim?

Of course! I wanted to be sure he liked it. His impression was my first and final factor in determining if it was a go or not.

‘IT'S IMPORTANT TO SPOIL YOURSELF,’

What's your typical beauty regimen?

On a regular day, I always wear mascara, concealer and lipstick, but when dressing up for work or for an event, I like to play with shadow and go for dark, smoky eyes.

What are your beauty and fashion essentials?

I love dark-red lips — like the new bordeaux lipstick shades from Chanel. On the fashion front, I can't live without my Hunter rain boots, which Tim bought for me. They look great with a pair of jeans. I think of them as a little bit of style mixed in with complete comfort and practicality — or a wardrobe with a purpose!
